

David Lee

David is the President and Co-founder of AirShares Elite, Inc. headquartered in Atlanta, GA. David and his partner, Bob Rosenberg, started AirShares in 2000 as a way to make cutting edge aircraft available to pilots and enthusiasts for a fraction of the cost of whole aircraft ownership. David's entrepreneurial background in the manufacturing industry and passion for aviation, and Bob's history in the multi-location franchise industry were central ingredients in the formation of the company. The company has grown over the last five years to include operations in 9 locations and now has nearly 30 aircraft in its fleet. With over 150 customers, AirShares Elite has become the industry leader in the professionally managed Shared Ownership industry.

The company's programs are ideal for pilots and enthusiasts looking to bring excitement and fun back to their general aviation experience. By eliminating the hassles of partnerships, reducing the cost of aircraft ownership, and offering a fleet of locally and nationally based aircraft, the company's shared-ownership program makes access and ownership of cutting edge aircraft such as the Cirrus SR 22 – available to a broad audience of people.